Mrs. Carol Church was elected publication editor and Mrs. Florence Lawson was elected genealogical secretary.

BUDDING OUT:

Our genealogical society has gathered considerable momentum for a youngster, and we don't want to lose it. One thing we all can do to help keep it moving is to bring in new members. So remind your friends that the treasurer is Enoch Tompkins, Shelburne.

It has been noted that we have members from Vermont, New York, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Maryland, Texas, New Hampshire, Missouri, Minnesota and California. Kinda wonder how long it'll take to have our list include all 50 states?

We are already looking forward to our spring meeting, which will probably be held sometime in May. We would welcome any suggestions as to speakers or other program features. Also we are open to suggestions for a meeting place, perhaps a church or organization rooms where a luncheon could be served. Submit suggestions to Leon W. Dean, 308 S. Prospect St. Burlington.

We are looking for a place somewhere in Rutland or the surrounding area where our executive board can be accommodated for a meeting. If you know of a private residence or public room available, please communicate with Leon W. Dean, address above.
